

NHS Clinical Entrepreneurs Series

Hosted by

Supporting health professionals with a passion for innovation and entrepreneurship

Wednesday 27 March 2019, 08:00 – 12:00

West Park Conference Centre, 319 Perth Road, Dundee, DD2 1NN

08:00 – 08:30	Registration and light breakfast
08:30 – 08:40	Welcome Graham Watson, Executive Chairman, Scottish Health Innovations Ltd (SHIL)
08:40 – 09:10	Innovation and Entrepreneurship – Where are we? A short icebreaker exercise will enable experiences of innovation and entrepreneurship to be shared with likeminded attendees; helping to share knowledge, build communities of support and understand opportunities and challenges in health innovation.
09:10 – 09:30	Developing and Supporting your Business Proposition Robert Rea, Head of Innovation, Scottish Health Innovations Ltd
09:30 – 09:50	Early Stage Innovation Through to Technical Feasibility Jean Ngoie, Head of Instrumentation and Clinical Engineering , NHS Tayside
09:50 – 10:10	Early Stage Investment Brian McNicoll, Enterprise and Entrepreneurship Manager, University of Dundee
10:10 – 10:30	Networking and refreshments
10:30 – 10:50	Collaboration with Academia Professor John Dillon, Professor of Hepatology and Gastroenterology, University of Dundee
10:50 – 11:10	Creating an NHS Start Up and Pursuing Commercialisation Professor Graeme Houston, Chair of Clinical Imaging and Intervention, University of Dundee and Non-Executive Medical Director, VascularFlow Technologies
11:10 – 11:30	Developing a Product to Commercialisation SHIL supported NHS inventor will share their experiences
11:30 – 11:50	Q&A session
11:50 – 12:00	Networking and refreshments

Register now: www.shil.co.uk/clinicalentrepreneurs

Programme may be subject to change. Stay up to date

www.shil.co.uk

@ScotHealthInno