

NHS Clinical Entrepreneurs Series

Hosted by  SHIL

Supporting health professionals with a passion for innovation and entrepreneurship

Thursday 31 January 2019, 08:00 – 12:00
Surgeon's Quarter, Nicolson Street, Edinburgh, EH8 9DW

08:00 – 08:30	Registration and light breakfast
08:30 – 08:40	Welcome Graham Watson, Executive Chairman, Scottish Health Innovations Ltd (SHIL)
08:40 – 09:10	Innovation and Entrepreneurship – Where are we? A short icebreaker exercise will enable experiences of innovation and entrepreneurship to be shared with likeminded attendees; helping to share knowledge, build communities of support and understand opportunities and challenges in health innovation.
09:10 – 09:30	Developing and Supporting your Business Proposition Dr Robert Rea, Head of Innovation, Scottish Health Innovations Ltd (SHIL)
09:30 – 09:50	Early Stage Innovation Through to Technical Feasibility Professor George Corner, Honorary Professor of Bioengineering, University of Dundee and Retired Consultant Medical Physicist
09:50 – 10:10	Early Stage Investment Barbara Blaney, Senior Incubation Manager, MediCity Scotland
10:10 – 10:30	Networking and refreshments
10:30 – 10:50	Collaboration with Academia Fiona Mason, Leader of Business Engagement, Edinburgh Napier University
10:50 – 11:10	Creating an NHS Start Up and Pursuing Commercialisation Phil Harris, CEO, Clear Surgical
11:10 – 11:30	Developing a Product to Commercialisation Graeme Tydeman, Consultant in Obstetrics and Gynaecology, NHS Fife
11:30 – 11:50	Q&amp;A session
11:50 – 12:00	Close, networking and refreshments

Programme may be subject to change. Stay up to date

 www.shil.co.uk

 @ScotHealthInno